

SCHOOL OF KINESIOLOGY

is seeking outstanding candidates for a

PROBATIONARY (TENURE-TRACK) APPOINTMENT IN NEUROSCIENCE OF HUMAN MOVEMENT AND MOBILITY

The School of Kinesiology at Western advocates the benefits of physical activity to society by providing a multidisciplinary approach to discovery, dissemination, and application of knowledge about human movement and its effects (<http://www.uwo.ca/fhs/kin/>). The School is excited to support three new research clusters focusing on Physical Activity and 1) Brain Health, 2) Mobility, and 3) Social Impact. We are seeking a Probationary (tenure-track) colleague at the rank of Assistant Professor, in the area of Neuroscience (or closely related field) relating to Human Movement, Physical Activity and Mobility. The successful candidate will contribute to the vision of the school as a global leader in research and education through a multidisciplinary approach to Kinesiology.

We are seeking candidates with emerging or documented excellence in the basic and/or translational research associated with the broad field of physical activity and movement neurosciences. The successful candidate will strengthen the School's multifaceted understanding of human movement and how physical activity influences neural outcomes. This position will complement the current expertise in exercise and cognition, neuromuscular control, movement neuroscience, and neural control of circulation. This agenda is linked to the School of Kinesiology's strength in Brain Health, the Faculty of Health Sciences' Canadian Centre for Activity and Aging (CCAA), campus initiatives such as the Brain and Mind Institute, Robarts Research Institute, Bone and Joint Institute, translational community programs, and the signature areas identified in the Faculty of Health Sciences' Strategic Research Plan http://www.uwo.ca/fhs/research/files/strat_research_plan_2016.pdf.

Candidates must hold a PhD in Kinesiology or a related field, have demonstrated excellence in research, with a strong potential to secure external research funding. The candidate ideally will have demonstrated expertise in developing and teaching courses in traditional and flexible learning environments. The successful candidate also will be expected to participate in relevant service to the School of Kinesiology and University. The effective date of the appointment is July 1, 2018, or as negotiated. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application.
